Depression Management Programme

Depression is a fairly common yet serious mental health condition classified as a mood disorder. The symptoms can vary and are often paired with feelings of sadness, loss, or anger. This condition disrupts people's everyday functioning, but it can be treated effectively with medication or therapy.

Medihelp's Depression Management Programme

Medihelp has introduced our Depression Management Programme to support members who have been diagnosed with depression. The care programme assists you in managing your condition effectively out of the hospital. Upon registration, eligible members will receive:

- A monthly benefit amount for medication and
- An additional rand value per year allocated to out-of-hospital consultations with a social worker, psychiatric nurse, psychiatrist, psychologist, and occupational therapist.
